

Assessment to Package

OPENING

First I want to hear what brought you in. Then we'll try some things together, and at the end I will tell you what I think makes sense from here.

DISCOVERY

So...what brought you in?

Got it. What is that making harder for you day to day?

And what would you like to be able to do that you can't do comfortably right now?

What have you tried so far? What helped, even briefly?

IF THE CONCERN IS NOT CLEAR:

Can you tell me more about that?

Can you give me an example?

FIND THE OTHER CONCERNS

Got it. Other than [FIRST ISSUE], what else is going on?

Anything else?

FOR EACH OTHER CONCERN

You mentioned [CONCERN]. What is that making harder for you?

And what would you like to get back to doing?

What have you tried for that? What helped, even briefly?

IF IT IS ALL ONE AREA:

So with your [AREA]...there's [SPECIFIC DIFFICULTY THEY DESCRIBED]. Is there another way it is getting in the way of what you want to do?

And how confident do you feel about knowing what to do when it starts bothering you?

IF THERE ARE SEVERAL OVERLAPPING CONCERNS:

So it sounds like a few things...we've got [RELATED CONCERNS] around [FIRST MAIN CONCERN], [SECOND MAIN CONCERN], and [THIRD MAIN CONCERN].

CONFIRM

Alright. So we've got [CONCERN 1], [CONCERN 2], and [CONCERN 3]. Did I get that right?

BODY WORK

Great. Let's get you up and try some things together.

What are you noticing there?

How does that feel compared with when we started?

Anything else you notice?

TRANSITION TO THE OFFER

Got it. So today you noticed [WHAT THEY ACTUALLY DESCRIBED]. Is that right?

Based on everything you told me, I think we can help. You good to walk through it?

OFFER STACK

So for your [CONCERN 1], we'll start with [PROTOCOL 1]. [ASSURANCE 1]. So you can [WHAT THEY WANT BACK 1]. Do you think that would help?

Great. Now, for [CONCERN 2], we'll use [PROTOCOL 2]. It's great because [ASSURANCE 2]. So you can [WHAT THEY WANT BACK 2]. Does that make sense?

Perfect. For [CONCERN 3], we'll use [PROTOCOL 3]. [ASSURANCE 3]. This way you can [WHAT THEY WANT BACK 3]. Do you think that would help?

Alright. So we've got [PROTOCOL 1] for [WANT 1], [PROTOCOL 2] for [WANT 2], and [PROTOCOL 3] for [WANT 3]. You think that would solve the problem?

RECOMMENDATION

My recommendation is the [SIX- / TWELVE-WEEK] Amari Practice because [REASON BASED ON THEIR CONCERNS AND TODAY'S SESSION].

IF RECOMMENDING TWELVE WEEKS:

You'll get 24 guided sessions with me over twelve weeks, plus Living Practice, our video course. We'll put those pieces together around what you want to get back to doing.

The twelve-week Amari Practice is $5,400. Would you like to get started?

IF RECOMMENDING SIX WEEKS:

You'll get 12 guided sessions with me over six weeks, plus Living Practice, our video course. We'll put those pieces together around what you want to get back to doing.

The six-week Amari Practice is $3,000. Would you like to get started?

IF YES:

Great. Let's get you started.

IF THEY RAISE AN OBJECTION:

I completely hear you... Do you mind if I ask you a question? Do you think the Amari Method can help you get back to [GOAL]?

Got it. What's the main thing holding you back?

Chunking and Recommendation Examples

CHUNK DOWN: Break one concern into specific difficulties—such as jaw pain affecting chewing or sleep. Confirm the connection before matching a protocol; poor sleep alone does not identify a jaw problem.

CHUNK UP: Group related difficulties into three useful concerns rather than giving every symptom its own solution.

INCLUDE THE WHOLE BODY: Amari is a connected system, not ten unrelated body-part fixes. At least one concern should address how their body works together. Explain connections from their concerns and the assessment, rather than inventing another complaint. Confirm the full map after the assessment if needed.

EXAMPLE — JAW, SHOULDERS, AND WHOLE-BODY MOVEMENT:

So your jaw is the main thing—you want to chew comfortably and stop having it interrupt your sleep. You also mentioned your shoulders are tight. And when we got you moving, you noticed how differently your shoulders felt when we included your hips and back. So we'll address the jaw, the shoulder tension, and getting those pieces working together. Did I get that right?

POSSIBLE MATCHES: Jaw concern — Jaw Align. Shoulder tension — Passive Bridge if the assessment supports that choice. Whole-body coordination — Suspension Squat to bring supported shoulder opening and hip movement together. Choose the actual protocols from the assessment, not from this example alone.

EXAMPLE — CONCERN-BASED RECOMMENDATION:

My recommendation is the twelve-week Amari Practice. Your jaw is what brought you in, but you also want to stop carrying that tension through your shoulders and feel more comfortable through your whole body. Today you felt a difference when we worked with those pieces together. I want us to build on that, see how it carries into your workday, and adjust the practice as we go—not just show you a jaw exercise and leave you to figure out the rest.

Garrett chooses six or twelve weeks from the actual assessment, not a fixed rule.

Assurance Drafts — Garrett to Refine

JAW ALIGN

“Jaw Align is one of my strongest starting points for this. We’re working with the muscles that are doing too much and the ones that aren’t contributing enough—not just trying to massage a tight jaw. I’ve worked with people who were constantly rubbing their jaw or stretching it without getting anywhere. Once we worked on that balance, they could feel the difference when they opened their mouth and chewed.”

SPRING STEP

“This is exactly why Spring Step is part of the method. We work with the heel, Achilles, and calf together to develop spring from the ground up. I’ve worked with players who stretched their calves every day but still tightened up on the court. Getting that spring working gave them something stretching alone hadn’t—and because your feet support everything above them, this is bigger than just a calf exercise.”

PASSIVE BRIDGE

“Passive Bridge is one of the foundations of Amari because it lets us work with your hips, back, and shoulders together. The support gives your body a chance to release some of that constant effort instead of asking you to push through another exercise. I’ve seen people come in focused on their shoulder and be surprised by how differently it moved once we included what was happening through their back and hips.”

ACTIVE BRIDGE

“More flexibility isn’t always the missing piece. Sometimes your body needs better support in the movement it already has. That’s why we have Active Bridge: it brings the muscles supporting your hips and back into the work. I’ve worked with people who could stretch much farther than I could but still didn’t feel comfortable or stable. Building that support was the piece they’d been missing.”

SUSPENSION SQUAT

“Suspension Squat brings two important pieces together: opening through the shoulders and moving through the hips. We use support so you don’t have to be able to do a full hang or a deep squat to begin. I’ve worked with people who thought those movements were off the table for them. Finding a supported version let us start connecting the upper and lower body instead of working around them separately.”

HAND BALANCER

“Your hands spend a lot of the day closing—around a racket, a weight, a tool. Hand Balancer works the other side of that equation by getting the back of the hand involved. I’ve worked with people who were squeezing a ball to strengthen an already overworked grip. Giving the hand a different job was what finally made the work feel useful. That balance is why this has its own place in Amari.”

POWER POSTURE

“Power Posture isn’t just me telling you to stand up straight. We work with how your shoulder blades and head are supported, so you can actually find the position instead of forcing it. I’ve worked with people who spent years correcting their posture and still finished the day with tired shoulders. Once they could feel where the support came from, they weren’t relying on a constant reminder to pull themselves upright.”

VERTICAL DROP

“Vertical Drop is one of the ways we teach your body to stop holding everything up with constant effort. We work from the top down, giving the neck and back a chance to let go together. I’ve worked with people who didn’t realize how much they were holding until they felt that contrast. That’s useful because now we have something they can recognize and practice—not just an instruction to ‘relax.’”

SPINAL WAVE

“Spinal Wave uses small, rhythmic movements to explore where your back is holding and where movement is missing. We don’t need to force a bigger stretch to make it useful. I’ve worked with people who kept pressing harder with a foam roller because they thought more pressure was the answer. Learning to get movement with less effort gave them a completely different way to work with their back.”

ELBOW RESET

“Elbow Reset gives the forearm a different job from the gripping and repetitive work it’s doing all day. That’s why I use it with racket players—we’re not just adding more of the same loading to an already irritated area. I’ve worked with players who kept resting until it felt better, then ran into the same problem when they played again. This gave us a specific movement pattern to work on, rather than simply waiting it out.”

Offer Framework

DISCOVERY: More bad stuff, less good stuff — if you do nothing.

OFFER: More good stuff, less bad stuff — if you buy.

You just went through Pain Cycles, pulled some teeth, and stacked the pain. Now, it's time to offer our solution. Kind of. I say "kind of" because typical salespeople go right to "pitching". Don't do that.

Why trouble yourself with getting these pain points and then... abandon them? This sucks. Don't suck. Making offers at ACQ is more than just listing benefits and asking for money. First, we map all the problems in the discovery phase to solutions we provide—then we ask for money. In other words, we craft a personalized offer on the spot. This crushes. And by the way. You have two minutes.

Now if that doesn't sound like enough time, then one, you are wasting time. More specifically—wasting words. Remember, talking between 150-170 words per minute gives you about 320 words to make your offer. That is plenty of words if you know what you're doing. It just means... you must make every word count. So what words should you say? Your solution stack.

How to Make The Offer

To make the offer, we have to transition from discovery smoothly. We do this after we recapped all the problems. It makes sense to then tell them you think we can help them, then ask permission to share. As soon as they give you permission to share, you present your notes from discovery right next to our solutions. So choose three of our solutions and map their problems to those.

Here's the offer making process:

- 1) Transition: Tell them you think we can help. Then ask if they'd like to hear how. Ex: Given everything you just told me, I think [PRODUCT] would really help you. Want me to walk through it?
- 2) Map: Connect their problems to our solutions, assurances, benefits, then confirm that it would help. If they have one problem, then map it to all three solutions by breaking it into micro problems in the discovery phase. If they have more than three problems, great! Then you group them so one solution solves more than one problem.
 - a) Problem: Remind them of their problem. Ex: For your "tight calf" issue. ..

- b) Solution: Tell them how we'll solve it specifically (think protocol). Ex: When you come in, Garrett will show you the Spring Step protocol.
- c) Assure: Tell them why that thing is great (decrease risk). Ex: Garrett will make sure you are doing it in the exact position your body needs.
- d) Benefit: Tell them the good stuff the solution gets them. Ex: So you can move around without your calves always feeling tight.
- e) Confirm: Ask for confirmation. Ex: Do you think that would help?
- 3) Stack: List all solution and benefit pairs up to this point. You do this three times. After the third time (and confirmation), you ask for the sale.
- 4) Ask: Ask if they are ready to buy/move forward. Ex: Great—So you ready to get started with the Amari Practice?
- 5) Drop Price & STFU: Then you state the price and shut the fuck up.

Preparation makes offer stacking the same every time. The way you label problems in discovery must map to solutions we provide. This means you can have all your labels prepared ahead of time. Just match away in the discovery phase. Prospects change, but the solutions we provide stay the same. This means you can have assurances for each solution prepared ahead of time. The benefits for each solution also stay the same. This means you can have benefits prepared ahead of time... Get the trend? With proper preparation you need only to “plug and chug”. You should never have to come up with anything on the fly and risk saying something dumb, screwing up your tone, or both.

A COMPLETELY STACKED OFFER: PLUG AND CHUG

[Transition] Based on everything you've said...I think we can help. You good to walk through it?

So given [Problem(s)]... it looks like you'll get the most from [Solution1]. It's [Assurance1] so you can [Benefit1]... How does that sound?

Great so you've got [Solution1] to [Benefit1]. Now [Problem(s)] you can tackle best with [Solution2]. It's great because [Assurance2]. So you can [Benefit2]... Does that make sense?

Perfect... So with [Solution1] to [Benefit1] and [Solution2] to [Benefit2]... It means that for [Problem(s)] the [Solution3] will help you move more freely. [Assurance3] makes it totally worth it. This way you will [Benefit3]... Do you think that would help?

Alright then looks like we've got everything covered from three angles. You've got [Solution1] to [Benefit1]... [Solution2] to [Benefit2]... and [Solution3] to [Benefit3].

You think that would help solve your problem?

Great—So you ready to get started with the Amari Practice?

It's [PRICE]. Do you want to use Visa, Amex, Mastercard, or Discover?

PRO TIP: If you ever ask “do you have any questions?” you will be benched and made an example of. I do not recommend asking prospects for reasons not to buy.

If the prospect agrees then you closed 'em. Excellent. Collect payment, move to the referral section, and get their friends on board.

If the prospect does anything else. They've objected. This is not ideal. But, we are far from powerless. So I'll show you exactly how to overcome buying objections and get the close next. Let's do it.

Referrals Framework

Referrals are when our clients send us more clients. We want lots of referrals. Clients do send referrals on their own, but it works even better if we just ask for them...

When to ask clients to introduce you to their friends:

After they have experienced a meaningful shift in a session and are excited about the work. If you run out of time in person, adapt this to text.

* After they start a text thread with you and share anything positive. This is a very good time. Clients text most often after they: 1) Come in for a session or 2) Get good results from a protocol Garrett showed them. They text you because they are excited about what changed.

Asking for referrals gets you the simplest, cheapest, fastest, easiest, highest-converting opportunities. This is the single most lucrative use of your follow-up time. This is the least work per sale out of anything in this handbook. Yet, few salespeople do it because they are afraid of sounding like a douche. But when you do it our way, you won't sound like a douche. And that's why you'll win.

Referral Process

1) Compliment them - Tell them they're great to work with. This makes them like you more and happier they chose Amari.

2) Get introduction - Then ask who they know that is dealing with something in their body and would benefit from coming in.

3) Give them words to use: If they say yes, ask them to start a group chat.

* Tell them to say: "I've been working with Garrett at Amari Method and it has been great. Thought you might want to come in and see what he does. I'll let you two take it from here."

4) Get more introductions — If you get one. Ask for more.

Make Referrals Your Top Priority. Nothing will net you more money per second than referrals. It is your highest return on time.

* If they text, call immediately.

* Always double dial before texting.

* Referrals should be a meaningful part of your sales. DO NOT UNDERESTIMATE IT.

Referrals In Action

Compliment: Great. We've got you all locked in. Quick question for you—you've been great to work with. If we could work with people like you all day—we would (hahaha)...

Get Introduction: Who else do you know who is dealing with something in their body and would benefit from coming in? I ask because I only take on five new clients a month, and I'd love for a couple of those people to come from your world.

* IF YES: Give Them Words To Use: You against putting us all in a group text? I can shoot you a message to copy paste if that's easier for you? It just says... "I've been working with Garrett at Amari Method and it has been great. Thought you might want to come in and see what he does. I'll let you two take it from here." Cool?

* Get More Introductions: Great - anyone else come to mind?

* IF NO: [Move on.]

Looping Script

WHEN TO USE: After you present the offer and the prospect raises their first objection.

STEP #1: NO MATTER WHAT THEY SAY

I completely hear you... Do you mind if I ask you a question? Do you think the Amari Method can help you get back to [GOAL]?

STEP #2: ISOLATE THEN FILTER

"Yes I do, but [new objection]"

CONFIRM: Ahh...so the main thing is [OBJECTION]?

Wait for response

ISOLATE: Other than [NEW OBJECTION]... is there anything else holding you back?

Wait for response

— Move to the relevant objection script.

"Yeah.." (very uncertain tone)

PROBE: Hmm...you don't seem super confident—

Wait for response

IF THEY GIVE A SPECIFIC OBJECTION:

CONFIRM: Got it so it's [OBJECTION]?

Wait for response

ISOLATE: Other than [OBJECTION] Anything else holding you back?

Wait for response

— Move to the relevant objection script.

IF THEY DON'T GIVE A SPECIFIC OBJECTION:

PROBE: Well, what's your main— concern?

Wait for response

CONFIRM: Got it...is it more [OBJECTION TYPE #1] or [OBJECTION TYPE #2]? 0

Wait for response

ISOLATE: So other than [OBJECTION]— is anything else holding you back?

Wait for response

— Move to the relevant objection script.

“Yes I do” (certain tone)

Love it...I'm curious...what makes you say that?

Wait for response

I agree. I mean, given what you told me about [PROBLEM]...and what you want to get back to doing...

Wait for response

It sounds like the Amari Method can really help...I mean how could we just get this going?

Wait for response

ISOLATE: Well, it sounds like [OBJECTION] is the only thing holding you back?... Is there anything else?

Wait for response

Mind if I present— some possible... solutions?

Wait for response

— Move to the relevant objection script.

“M NOT SURE”

PROBE: Oh...well what's your main— concern?

Wait for response

ISOLATE: Got it, outside of [OBJECTION] do you have any other concerns?

Wait for response

— Move to the relevant objection script.

Timing Objections

The prospect says they cannot find time to begin the Amari Method.

“I’m overwhelmed” / “I have a lot going on right now” / “Now isn’t a good time”

What is making now feel hard?

Wait for response

Completely hear you...so it sounds like you have a lot going on right now?

Wait for response

IF THEY DO NOT GIVE A CLEAR REASON:

Is it more that you do not have room in your week for sessions right now...

or that it just feels like one more thing to take on?

Wait for response

IF THEY DO NOT HAVE ROOM IN THEIR WEEK:

Got it. What specifically would need to work for the schedule to feel doable?

Wait for response

[RECAP]. If we can schedule around [SPECIFIC CONSTRAINT]...

would there be anything else keeping you from getting started?

Wait for response

IF NO:

Great. Let’s look at the first sessions that make sense.

IF YES:

Move to the Looping Script.

IF IT FEELS LIKE ONE MORE THING:

Got it. Is the time itself the issue...

or are you still unsure whether the Amari Method is worth making time for?

Wait for response

IF THEY ARE UNSURE IT IS WORTH MAKING TIME FOR:

Move to the Looping Script.

IF TIME IS THE ISSUE:

Move to “They do not have room in their week.”

“I NEED TO CONFIRM THE TIMELINE”

Other than confirming the timeline—is there anything else holding you back?

Wait for response

Got it. What are you confirming?

Wait for response

When will you know?

Wait for response

What do you expect to be different after [DATE]?

Wait for response

IF THEY GIVE A SPECIFIC DATE OR EVENT:

Great. Let’s set a time to talk on [DAY / TIME], once you have that confirmed.

IF THEY GIVE A SPECIFIC SCHEDULING CONSTRAINT:

Move to “They do not have room in their week.”

IF THEY ARE GOING AWAY / TRAVELING:

Got it. How long will you be away?

Wait for response

And when are you back?

Wait for response

Would virtual sessions while you are away work better...

or would you rather begin in person when you return?

Wait for response

IF VIRTUAL:

Perfect. If we set up virtual sessions while you are away...

would there be anything else keeping you from getting started?

Wait for response

IF NO:

Great. Let's get those virtual sessions set up.

IF YES:

Move to the Looping Script.

IF IN PERSON AFTER RETURN:

Got it. If we set your first in-person sessions for the week you return...

would there be anything else keeping you from getting started?

Wait for response

IF NO:

Great. Let's get those first sessions scheduled now.

IF YES:

Move to the Looping Script.

IF THEY CANNOT NAME WHAT WILL CHANGE LATER:

Got it. Other than timing...

are you unsure whether this is something you want to prioritize right now?

Wait for response

IF YES:

Move to the Looping Script.

IF NO:

Set a specific time to reconnect.

Money Objections

The prospect says the Amari Method is too expensive, not workable right now, or they are not sure it is worth the cost.

“I DON’T HAVE THE MONEY” / “IT’S EXPENSIVE”

That makes sense. When you say expensive, what are you comparing it to?

Wait for response

IF THEY ARE COMPARING IT TO ANOTHER OPTION:

Got it. What feels different about that compared with the Amari Method?

Wait for response

Move to Value Clarity.

IF THEY SAY IT IS NOT WORKABLE RIGHT NOW:

Move to Cost Is Not Workable.

IF THEY ARE NOT CLEAR ON THE VALUE:

Move to Value Clarity.

IF THEY DO NOT GIVE A CLEAR ANSWER:

Got it. Is it more that the cost is not workable right now...

or that you are not yet clear it makes sense for you?

Wait for response

— Move to the relevant section below.

COST IS NOT WORKABLE

Got it. Other than the cost—is there anything else keeping you from getting started?

Wait for response

IF NO:

Would you like to see whether Klarna is an option?

Wait for response

IF YES:

Move to Klarna Payment Logistics.

IF NO / KLARNA IS NOT WORKABLE:

What would need to change for it to be workable?

Wait for response

When do you expect that to happen?

Wait for response

Great. Let's set a specific time to reconnect then.

IF YES, THERE IS SOMETHING ELSE:

Move to the Looping Script.

VALUE CLARITY

What would you need to feel clear on to know whether the Amari Method makes sense for you?

Wait for response

Is it the work we would be doing...

what you would get from it...

or whether it is worth the cost for you?

Wait for response

— Revisit the specific concern below.

IF THEIR BODY AFFECTS HOW THEY MAKE MONEY:

You mentioned that [PROBLEM] affects your ability to [WORK].

So this is not just about getting back to [GOAL]...

it is about being able to keep showing up for [WORK] without [PROBLEM] getting in the way.

Does that make sense?

Wait for response

IF THEY WORK WITH CLIENTS' BODIES:

And because you work with clients...

learning the Amari Method in your own body can also help you recognize and work with what shows up in theirs.

Does that make sense?

Wait for response

IF THEY ARE A FIT FOR THE PARTNER PROGRAM:

And separate from your own Practice...

we also have a partner program.

Each referral can earn you $500.

Does that make sense?

Wait for response

AFTER VALUE IS CLEAR:

Given [RECAP: THEIR PROBLEM]...

and that you want to get back to [GOAL]...

does the Amari Method feel like it makes sense for you?

Wait for response

IF YES:

Great. Would you like to get started?

IF NO:

Move to the Looping Script.

“I NEED ANOTHER CARD” / “I NEED TO WAIT UNTIL PAYROLL CLEARS”

Got it. Other than getting the payment method sorted...

is there anything else keeping you from getting started?

Wait for response

IF NO:

Would another card or Klarna be better?

Wait for response

IF ANOTHER CARD:

Complete payment.

IF KLARNA:

Move to Klarna Payment Logistics.

IF THEY NEED TO WAIT:

Got it. When will that be available?

Wait for response

Great. Let's set a specific time to reconnect then.

IF YES, THERE IS SOMETHING ELSE:

Move to the Looping Script.

KLARNA PAYMENT LOGISTICS[TO BE WRITTEN FROM THE ACTUAL CHECKOUT FLOW]

Decision Maker

The prospect says they cannot make the decision without someone else's permission or input.

"I NEED TO TALK TO MY SPOUSE OR BUSINESS PARTNER"

Got it...other than talking with them, is there anything holding you back?

Wait for response

Is it cool if I ask you a question?

Wait for response

What would happen if they said no?

Wait for response

IF THEY SAY THEY WOULD DO IT ANYWAY:

Great. Then are you ready to get started?

Wait for response

IF THEY SAY THEY WOULD NOT DO IT:

Got it. Why do you think they would be opposed to this?

Wait for response

[RECAP]...anything else?

Wait for response

— Identify and go through the specific objection loop.

Does [SPOUSE / BUSINESS PARTNER] already know that [PROBLEM] has been keeping you from [GOAL]?

Wait for response

And are they happy that you are still dealing with that?

Wait for response

So why do you think they would be opposed to you getting back to [GOAL]... and having a clear way to work with [PROBLEM]?

Wait for response

— Identify and go through the specific objection loop.

IF THEY ARE NOW READY:

Great. Would you like to get started?

Wait for response

IF THEY STILL NEED TO TALK WITH THEM:

Not a problem at all. When will you be able to talk with them?

Wait for response

Great. Let's reconnect on [DAY / TIME], after you have talked it through.

When we talk next, we'll answer anything that still is not clear.

— BAMFAM.

Stall Objections

The prospect says they need more time to consider the decision without giving a specific reason.

“I NEED TO THINK ABOUT IT”

Do you mind if I’m upfront with you?

Wait for response

Yeah so typically almost everyone is ready to get started...and if not it’s really because of 1 or 2 reasons.

1) They don’t see the value...I mean do you see it? Cool I’m confident this will help.

2) Logistically they need to make sure it will work...

So is it number 2 or something crazy? Haha

Wait for response

— Move to the relevant objection script.

“I ALWAYS TAKE 24 HOURS TO MAKE A DECISION”

100% respect that. What are you hoping to get clear on in the next 24 hours?

Wait for response

IF THEY NAME A SPECIFIC CONCERN:

Move to the relevant objection script.

IF THEY CANNOT NAME NEW INFORMATION:

Got it. So what specifically still does not feel clear enough to decide today?

Wait for response

— Move to the relevant objection script.

“I JUST NEED SOME TIME TO THINK ABOUT IT...IT’S A BIG COMMITMENT / DECISION”

That makes sense. What feels biggest about it?

Wait for response

Is it the cost, the time, talking with someone else, or whether it will work for you?

Wait for response

— Move to the relevant objection script.
